A note for InDesign CS5.5 users:

The InDesign projects in the Against The Clock Adobe CS5: Graphic Design Portfolio book work exactly as described in Adobe InDesign CS5.5.

The only issue is the difference in file format from one version to another, which affects the provided student resources files for some of the projects.

If you are using CS5.5 and open a provided InDesign file from the CS5 resource files, you will see the word "(Converted)" in the document tab. The project still works as described, but you will not be able to use the basic Save command until you have used the Save As command at least once.

To avoid this problem, we have converted the resource files to the necessary format for InDesign CS5.5. Make sure you download and use the correct files for the software version that you are using.
